I am writing to appose the attempt to turn the Wombat State Forest into a National Park. My concern is the community being refused collection of firewood. Collecting firewood helps to clear up understory wood that builds up over time and is a fire risk. Horse riding is enjoyed by the community so that needs to remain. Prospecting is a past-time that has minimal affect on the environment and needs to stay. Camping and enjoying the great outdoors should not be changed. I hope Australia never goes the way of the U.S which has a communist attitude and is locking up land under the guise of protection and preservation, removing the rights of citizens, Regards Yvette
