Description:

As an avid trail rider its devistating to clise the forest to us trail riders we respect the bush we stick to the trails amd enjoy the scenery . I fail to see after locking cattle out of the forest how this can be of benefit where i think the high country has proved this as no cattle we have had devistating fires i think the cattle needs to be moved thru to graze i have seen dreadfull divets and erosion caused by motor bikes i dont understand any of this logic to close the forest to horse riding only.
