Description:

I'm making this submission as I am concerned about the proposed creation of the Great forest national park. I am a regular user of a great number of the state forests around Victoria, from the north or the state around Corryong to the areas around healesville and Marysville where I grew up. I've enjoyed hunting, camping and fishing in many of the areas that will be affected by these new parks for most of my life. These are places I go to relax, where I can escape the city and the job I work 7 days a week. I fear that by the government pandering to inner city green groups I will lose the ability to do what I love. Or force me to break the law to continue doing it. I've spent many years in victorias high country, not once have I seen these inner city green types. Why should the majority of victorians be restricted from pursuing their pass times for the sake of a minority of environmental terrorists. Once they've locked the forests up they'll move on to the thing, I hope common sense prevails and we put an end to it now. Regards Daniel Wannan
