Description:

I oppose the making of more parks in Victoria that limit the practices of bush users, those who, use the bush to walk, shoot, fish, prospect, or just to camp in. Personally Im a fossicker for gold. I dont get much but I enjoy the solitude and peace the bush offers with the occassional magical experience that can happen unexpectedly. If such plans are brought into place my investent into my passtime will be worthless and whose going to compensate me for the $10,000 Ive spent to persue my passion.....and it is a passion. While I may only spend 8 weeks on the goldfields of Victoria every year I research my list of chosen goldfields, on line and at my local library every week ready for my next trip. And speaking of the trip, I journey to the Golden Triangle every year, camping at the Waanyarra free camp. Along the way I spend in the region of $5000 in the local bakeries, fuel stops, supermarkets and the like which helps towns like Wedderburn, Dunolly and Inglewood but Im only one of '000's. The economy of those places will suffer greatly if such moves are implemented and many may fall on hard times, even perhaps attempting suicide because of loss of livelihood. I implore those who can, to rethink this stupidity. The Australian bush is for all Australians. Leave it as it is. Its worked well for the last 200 yrs and will continue to. And please do not attempt to hide these submissions. Mine has been copied and is ready to send to any other judicial body should the occasion arise.

Description:

Please consider my reasons for allowing the Crown lands of Victoria to remain open for camping etc. Every year as a means to refresh and charge my batteries we travel from SA to camp and prospect and bird watch in the forests. I have made a number of friends while coming to Vict who live in or close to the forests area and we discuss our shared medical problems. It's a great way to unload with other people who understand. Closing the forests will directly affect my abilities to sustain a meaningful life for myself and the people with whom I share the time. I understand there must be a reasonable effort to manage these forests but we actually help in their upkeep by removing lots of rubbish and steel that otherwise would remain. Thank you for this opportunity to voice my fears. Your truly, Darryl.
